Make informed healthcare decisions with Advantage Suite

In the wake of landmark healthcare reform legislation, Medicaid and other state healthcare programs are faced with a daunting set of challenges. They must contain spiraling costs, improve quality of care, and increase healthcare access to the most vulnerable populations.

Truven Health Advantage Suite helps state healthcare agencies access and analyze their program's healthcare data to help them address these challenges and provide high quality care to beneficiaries.

Advantage Suite helps state healthcare agencies address the following challenges:

- Pressure to contain escalating costs
- Achieve compliance with state and federal regulations and reporting requirements
- Reduce proliferating fraud and abuse schemes
- Complex and time-intensive reporting for routine and ad hoc requests
- Identification of reasons for increases in cost and utilization
- Balancing the needs to contain costs, improve quality of care and expand access to care

One of the leaders in healthcare decision support for the federal government

Truven Health Advantage Suite integrates information from diverse sources and systems, organizes it to help support decision making, and enables easy access to information in a flexible, customized application. Our system is a certified surveillance and utilization review subsystem (SURS) and management administrative reporting subsystem (MARS) solution in many states and provides the management tools and insight so you have the information necessary to improve the efficiency and performance of federal government healthcare programs.
Solutions for federal government

Advantage Suite supports core healthcare program disciplines through a single database and one set of analytic applications. Decision Support System (DSS), SIRS and MARS information is updated at the same time, in one unified process. Advantage Suite is a powerful, and highly capable healthcare information solution – one that is ideally suited for healthcare reform initiatives, and can help you transform the effectiveness of your state healthcare agency. Its capabilities include the following:

- Financial reporting for budget development, cash flow analysis and rate-setting
- Management reporting that includes dashboard measures of program performance
- Medical policy that includes advanced clinical analysis and external benchmarks
- Managed care monitoring that fully integrates claims and encounter data
- Provider profiling that uses widely accepted methods for case-mix adjustment
- Recipient profiling, demographics, cost-sharing and population trend analysis
- Quality assurance and quality improvement
- Disease management evaluation and monitoring that includes predictive modeling
- Program integrity that includes SIRS reporting
